

Farouk Seif, Ph.D.
APRIL 10–30, 2011

EGYPT

JOURNEY INTO THE DAWN OF TIME

Egypt is the perfect setting to learn from and with others and experience the timeless wisdom of integrating nature and culture. The Egyptian odyssey is essential for the development of cultural identity and personal growth, navigating through unfamiliar cultural and historical boundaries. We invite you to a lifetime-experience to engage in inspiring activities that evoke your imaginative interpretation of ancient Egypt, and reinvigorate meaning and purpose in your personal life and professional practice. Reflect on your place in the world and gain insights into cross-cultural understanding, unconditional love, and holistic living.

The itinerary is packed with extraordinary adventures: sailing down the Nile; visiting traditional homes and sharing meals with villagers; participating in an ancestry Nubian dance; observing the pastoral life little-changed since the time of Christ; and experiencing the serenity of the Egyptian desert.

Cost

The cost of the trip is $3,400. This cost includes accommodations for 20 nights, excursions from Cairo to other cities and locations, ground transportation, entrance fees to the Egyptian museum and archeological sites, local guides and lecturers, and two meals per day. Airfare is not included.

Credits

Antioch University Seattle students may frame an independent study around their specific areas of interest. You may register for 2 - 5 credits. Please consult your advisor.

Deadline

To reserve a place, a deposit of $1,000 per person is required ASAP – space is limited. The remaining $2,400 is due on or before February 21, 2011. Please make checks payable to: Isis Institute
204 Raven Lane
Olga, WA 98279

Experience Crossing Cultural Boundaries in a Contemplative Setting

Organizer

Farouk Seif, Ph.D., was born and raised in Egypt with a Coptic background, a descendant of ancient Egyptians. He is the founder and director of Isis Institute. He is also Professor Emeritus at Antioch University Seattle, Center for Creative Change, where he teaches design for purposeful change. Dr. Seif has published and presented his work in international conferences urging the reinterpretation of the ancient Egyptian experience for thoughtful reflections on contemporary life.

For further information please contact: Michele Streich at Isis Institute, 360-376-4747; or email Farouk Seif at fseif@antioch.edu.

www.isisinstitute.net

